

Update to our General Terms and Conditions

Dear Sir/Madam,

We would like to inform you of the following update to our General Terms and Conditions (T&C).

Below you will find more information about the points that will be updated on 16 July 2020. The updated section is underlined or, in the case of point 8.2.1, struck through:

3. Submitted content

3.1 By submitting the content intended for publication and use on Plan.One, the Partner consents to the inclusion, use and provision of the content by the Provider within the meaning of Section 3.

3.4 With each transfer of content, the Partner grants the Provider a free, sub-licensable and transferable right of use of the respective content, which is unlimited in terms of time or content, in particular

3.4.1 ... the right to save the content on the Provider's servers, as well as to publish it, in particular making it publicly available, in a processed form if necessary (e.g. by displaying the content on websites, apps or via digital data carriers).

8.2.1 Depending on the scope provided by the Provider ~~and agreed with the Partner~~, the User may be able to upload an image file to Plan.One in order to add it to their own profile. In addition, the User has the option of placing additional photos in so-called photo albums, to manage these themselves or to make them accessible to some or all Users of Plan.One. Insofar as the User uses this function, the right of use granted in accordance with Section 3.4 is limited to the storage of the images and publication on Plan.One to the extent approved by the User.

You may object to the validity of the amended General Terms and Conditions up to 6 (six) weeks from the receipt of this letter.

Please direct any objections to the following address: Plan.One GmbH, Kammerratsheide 36, 33609 Bielefeld, Germany.

If you do not object, the amended General Terms and Conditions will become effective 2 weeks after the six-week objection period has elapsed.

We looking forward to continuing to work with you.

Best wishes,

The Plan.One team
